Project Information:

Project Title: Science Fiction and Fantasy Collection Development
Project Dates: School Year 2009/2010
Amount Requested: $1,010.66 Approximate People Served: 500

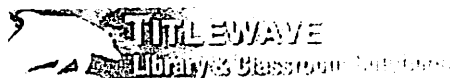

Project Description:

After years of neglect, the Randolph Community Middle School Library is coming on by leaps and bounds, with teachers bringing their classes for projects, students coming to hang out, and, most importantly, circulation of books. Students are eager for new titles, as well as for the spotty collection to be backfilled with classics. Science Fiction and Fantasy books are in particular demand, with long waiting lists for books such as The Lightning Thief and Ranger's Apprentice, and it is one of the genres in the collection that has serious holes.

Using the Young Adult Library Services Association's genre lists for Fantasy and Sci-Fi, as well as the New York Public Library's Books for the Teen Age, Wilson's Junior High Catalog, and the recommendations of other fannish young adult librarians, I have developed a list of Science Fiction and Fantasy titles that would greatly enhance the collection here at Randolph Community Middle School (included with this application). Any funds awarded by this grant would be used to purchase titles from this list. Having a diverse collection of books that are of high interest to the students is crucial in encouraging them enjoy reading, one of the eight standards issued by the Massachusetts School Library Association. Students who spend more time reading for pleasure have the practice and comfort with reading that allow them to access text in other contexts, such as their academic classes.
